Security Bank To Open Branch In Pine Inn

A bank in the court of Pine Inn has been approved by James J. Saxon, U.S. Controller of the Currency, Carroll M. McKee, co-owner with his wife of Pine Inn, announced this morning.

The Security National Bank of Monterey County will remodel premises at the corner of Lincoln and Ocean now occupied by the Beaux Arts Studio and Camera Shop. This business will move to the corner of Ocean and Monte Verde and take over premises presently occupied by the Gladys Johnston real estate firm. The Helen Carter dress shop will remain in the Pine Inn court back of the bank and have enlarged premises, according to Mr. McKee.

Mr. McKee emphasizes that the bank's "prestige" premises will be developed in Victorian style and interior decor will be of the same period.

The remodeling for the bank will mean "little change" to the exterior appearance of Pine Inn, Mr. McKee stresses, also the same color scheme as now exists will be continued.

The Carmel branch of the Security Bank will be the first new independent bank to be established in Carmel in 41 years. The only other independent, home-owned bank, the Bank of Carmel established in 1923, was sold to Crocker-Citizens in 1959.

The Security Bank is the Peninsula's only remaining home-owned bank. It was founded in 1889 in Pacific Grove. William A. Burkett of Pebble Beach acquired controlling interest in the bank from the E. Cooke Smith estate in 1961.

Mr. Burkett is, at present, in England. In August, he announced his intention of opening a branch of the Security Bank in Carmel.

Mr. McKee, this morning, stated that Mr. Burkett hopes to have the bank's Pine Inn branch ready to open on January 1, 1965.

The remodeling at Pine Inn is expected to start on November 1, he added. Clyde Smith, A.I.A., of Carmel is the architect for the project.

NO BURNING

Chief Robert E. Smith has issued a ban on all outdoor fires. This ban includes trash, shrubbery, garbage. There is no technical ban on the use of outdoor barbecues, but during the current hot dry weather, ALL outdoor fires are a hazard. To keep Carmel and the surrounding area safe, Chief Smith says, "NO OUTDOOR FIRES!"

Editor's Column

George Gatter, a planner hired by the five-county Tahoe Regional Planning Commission to investigate the growth of the Tahoe Basin area, recently told the California Assembly Committee on Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works that Carmel "has managed to stave off vulgarization by maintaining rigid control over planning."

Lake Tahoe's problems, he added, "are essentially urban and the counties are notoriously reticent and inadequately structured to cope with urban problems."

Those opposing the annexation of the Walker, Rio Way, Mission Fields and Mission tracts, also Carmel Point, to Carmel might well consider Mr. Gatter's statements... especially in the light of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, this week, permitting a development in Carmel Valley despite sincere efforts of a large number of Valley residents to stop what, they consider, is a destruction of the Carmel Valley Master Plan.

Through its president, Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.), the Carmel Citizens Committee joined the Valley residents in their protest against the Alcan project in the lower Valley. But to no avail.

Carmelites have had much experience with having advice disregarded by the county. The Carmel Planning Commission is asked to consider and advise the county planning commission on all subdivision and commercial developments lying in the unincorporated county areas within three miles of the city limits. Time after time, Carmel planners have recommended against developments which they considered incompatible with the area adjacent to the city and the Carmel Master Plan. Time after time, these recommendations have been ignored.

The Carmel Master Plan embraces all the unincorporated county areas from which, in the past two weeks, annexation petitions have been received by the city council.

It gives as an objective the protection of the city's environs "from inharmonious influences and harmful intrusions." However, the city is powerless to act out-

In a ceremony, beautiful and solemn, Mrs. Kenneth Roberts of Carmel (above), Deputy Grand Matron, 45th District of the Grand Chapter, State of California Order of the Eastern Star, received the bows, affectionate handclasps and unanimous expressions of loyalty from some 300 members of the Eastern Star at the reception given in her honor by Carmel Chapter No. 581, Order of the Eastern Star, on Saturday evening in the Carmel Woman's Club.

Mrs. Roberts was escorted into the reception room by George Bloomer, Past Patron, and host for the evening. Mrs. Shirley Lewis, Past Matron, gave the invocation. Thomas Byers, Past Patron, presented the flag.

In formal gowns, the Past Grand Matron, 1964 Deputy Grand Matrons and Worthy Matrons, escorted by Worthy Patrons, were summoned to the platform by Mrs. Clifford Cook, Worthy Matron of Chapter 581, presiding officer of the evening, and Kenneth Roberts, Worthy Patron.

The theme of the evening was "Home is where the heart is"... and the stage of the Carmel Woman's Club was transformed into a living room of the turn of the century. Soft "oil wick" lamplight, velvet upholstered chairs, and quaint love seats created a delightful atmosphere.

With Mrs. Cook, greeting the officers who were escorted by Marshals Mrs. Edward Durel, P.M., and Mrs. Eugene Scheffer, P.M., to the stage, was Hostess Mrs. Robert Little, P.M.

Introduced were the Grand Trailers and committee members of the Grand Chapter.

Mrs. Ruth May Friend, the charter matron of Carmel Chapter in 1951, was presented and received a hearty welcome from the members and her many friends.

Reminiscences of association with Mrs. Roberts in Eastern Star activities, were given by Mrs. Annie Picknell Mills, Past Grand Matron, 1959, the same year that Mrs. Roberts was Worthy Matron of Carmel Chapter.

Mrs. Douglas A. Graham was soloist of the evening, accompanied by Mrs. Pearl MacFarland, P.M., of Watsonville.

Eastern Star Chapters escorted and presented at the reception included District 45, which is made up of Ocean Spray Chapter, Pacific Grove; Monterey Chapter, Monterey; El Gabilan Chapter, Salinas; Reveille Chapter, Salinas, and La Rosa Chapter, King City. Other chapters included Castro-

Sunset Committee Told By Council To 'Labor On'

It was evident last night, during the city council's special session to consider the interim progress report of the Sunset Committee, that the council would like, if feasible, to have the city control development and operation of a cultural center on the Sunset School site.

Also evidenced, was concern about development of a program for the immediate operation of the school on July 30, 1965 when the school district will turn the facility over to the city.

However, no directives were given to the Sunset Committee on the latter matter. Instead the committee was authorized to continue its work and follow a future program outlined in the report.

A 4-1 vote of the council approved the committee's recommendation that the city hall and municipal administrative offices were an acceptable use of part of the Sunset 2.9-acre site. Councilman Eben Whittlesey voted against this motion. He stated cultural use of Sunset should be pre-eminent.

Another motion, that a comparative study be made by the Sunset Committee of the merits of a non-profit corporation as opposed to an arts council for the control and operation of Sunset after it becomes city property, received the council's unanimous approval.

The interim report from the Sunset Committee recommended that a non-profit corporation be formed to enter into a long-term contract to lease the Sunset site and erect and operate on this site a cultural center which, eventually, would be turned over, unencumbered and without cost, to the city. Discussed at the last Sunset Committee meeting was that an arts council, representing all cultural groups, could control the center for the corporation.

Last night Councilman Gunnar Norberg pointed out that the city council is a non-profit, tax-exempt body empowered to accept bequests, able to borrow money at very low interest and entirely subject to the will of the citizens. The council, he emphasized, could become "a board of directors for whom there is no peer."

He added that the arts commission is also able to receive be-

'ON THE TOWN'

The Monterey Elks Club will present its annual fund-raising show "On The Town," next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

The Broadway-type musical revue will be directed by Carl Hawley, a professional hired to put on the show which will have a cast of 200. The elaborate costumes for the production will be provided by the John Rogers Company of Fostoria, Ohio, with which Mr. Hawley is associated. The firm will also supply scenery and special music.

All proceeds from "On The Town" will benefit the Cerebral Palsy Fund, Gateway Center for Retarded Children and the Elks Scholarship Fund.

The revue will take place at the Elks Lodge in Monterey. Tickets may be obtained in Carmel at California Music House, also the Music Box.

What people say and what they mean are not the same, from what I've seen. Their motives also don't agree with their known personality. I'll never understand the thoughts of those who lust for blood in sports. "Bash him! Smash him in the dirt!" they yell—so someone else gets hurt. The same is true of those who roar, "To save the peace, we'll go to war!" They mean, of course, "YOU wage the fight, while we stay home and out of sight."

You hear a politician shout, "Let's throw the opposition out!" He really means, "You vote for me so I can be the nominee!"

They talk about reducing tax, yet never get right down to facts. But they're not fooling anyone, because we know it won't be done.

So don't believe all things you hear; and what you see's not always clear. The best of men, in some degree have sometime kept strange company.

First Artists' Gala And Benefit Sunday At Ring's In Monterey

A growing list of more than 50 Peninsula artists will contribute paintings, drawings, pottery, sculpture, and hand-crafted jewelry to be auctioned on Sunday afternoon, noon to 5 p.m., at Ring's Coffee Shop on Abrego street in Monterey.

The occasion will be the first annual Artists' Gala and Benefit and will feature, in addition to the auction, a variety of exotic entertainment and refreshments. The public is invited, and tickets will be available at the door, or in advance at the AFA Gallery, also the Guitar Shop in Carmel.

Pacific Grove painter Ben Bishop and his wife, Carolyn, also an artist, are the inspirations for the event. Ben, currently hospitalized, has undergone two serious and expensive operations. This first gala will set up a permanent emergency fund which will be raised annually to help local artists in distress.

Ben, who recently held a successful show of drawings at the Thunderbird Shop in the Valley, studied painting at the Art Students League in New York City, art history at the University of Nebraska, and did graduate work in art and aesthetics at New York University. He taught painting at Vassar College, the University of Missouri and the Memphis Academy of Art. He and Carolyn have two small daughters, Deborah and Rebecca.

Mrs. John Roby is general chairman of the Artists' Gala and is being assisted by Eldon Dedini, Ron Bostwick, Pat Carey, Joe Danysh, Arch Garner, Jerry Wasserman and Dave Walton. These artists and friends have worked out a program including folk singing, flamenco dancing, lute playing and band music.

Among artists who are donating for the gala are Janet Ament, Iris Alberto, Erica Barton, Jeanette Bedwell, Jim Brown, Jay Chaffin, John Calder, Sam Colburn, V. Conroy, Dick Crispo, Robert Davey, Victor De Gesu, Edith Dinkin, Ephraim Doner, Marjorie Faris, Paco Ferro, Bernice Fouratt, Beth Garcia, Jay Hannah, Louisa Jenkins, Fred Klepich, John La Pierre, Jessie MacGregor, Si Ostermeier, Jessie Quigley, Lois Steele, William van der Sluis, Gus Velletri Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whittier.

CARMEL PACK 48 MEETS

Four new members were initiated into Cub Scout Pack 48 by Cubmaster Ray Bauman at ceremonies in All Saints' Episcopal Church, sponsoring institution. They are Bolton Colburn, Cyrus Colburn, William Whitesides, and Clifford Skelton.

Fred Bell and Jock Whitney received the Arrow of Light, highest award in Cubscouting. Other awards made were: Webelos, Philip Spinks, Jeremy Street and Fred Hrusa; Gold Arrow, George Bucquet; Bear Badge, James Morton.

Programs Announced For Woman's Club

Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary, president of the Carmel Woman's Club, and Mrs. Rhea Diveley, vice-president and program chairman, announce eight outstanding programs for the 1964-65 season.

Mrs. Diveley made frequent visits to the San Francisco offices of Dr. Albert Rappaport, founder and president of San Francisco Town Hall, and, in consultation with Dr. Rappaport carried the responsibility of procuring the speakers who will appear in Carmel this winter.

On October 5, the initial speaker will be the noted psychologist, Dr. Cleo Dawson. Known throughout the United States as an author and lecturer, Dr. Dawson has been awarded degrees by five universities. The subject of her address at the Woman's Club will be "The Achievement of Happiness."

"Comedy in Concert," starring Felix de Cola, South Africa's most prominent concert pianist, is programmed for November 2. The program promises unique contrast of music and humor.

Ed Lark, reputed to be a perfectionist with a camera, will give an illustrated lecture, "Sweden Year 'Round" on December 7.

Covering the news, from Russia to Red China, Berlin to Borneo and Cuba to the Congo, John Morley, news correspondent, will give an exclusive report of his 25th news trip and his search for headlines of the world. His address will be "I Saw Today's Facts and Frauds Around the World." Mr. Morley will be heard at the Woman's Club on January 4.

February 1, Jacques Cartier, an impersonator of rare dramatic talent will present "America's Greatest One-Man Show." Among his characterizations will be, Genghis Khan, Captor of Cathay; Juan Belmonte, Spain's Greatest Matador; Danjuro the 7th, Japan's greatest actor; Henry Fu-Yi, Last Emperor of China, and Shalam, the Beggar of Jerusalem.

Dr. Murray Banks, psychiatrist and lecturer, will be heard here on March 8, in an address which he has already given 5,000 times. His topic will be the world's most popular—"You! And What To Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes."

April 5, giving a unique impersonation of Mark Twain, Dr. George William Smith, appearing in the white suit, white wig, and with the great white mustache, will lecture as the great humorist did in 1905. Critics have acclaimed Dr. Smith as "the re-incarnation of the beloved creator of Tom Sawyer."

For the final program of the Carmel Woman's Club, Mrs. Diveley has chosen Dr. Beryl D. Orris, authority on human relations. A student of both Sigmund Freud and Havelock Ellis, Dr. Orris holds doctorates from universities in Berlin and Vienna. He speaks in a witty, conversational style, deeply-rooted in a rich cultural background. His subject will be, "What Makes the Wheels Go 'Round.'" Dr. Orris will be heard on May 3.

Directors of the Carmel Woman's Club for the coming year are: Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary, president; Mrs. Rhea Diveley, 1st vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. Peter Kim, 2nd vice-president and membership chairman; Miss Tess M. Sedwick, recording secretary; Mrs. Wallace H. Lowry, treasurer; Mrs. F. E. Gould, corresponding secretary. Chairmen are Mrs. Anthony Marino, card section; Mrs. Stanley D. Wilson, book section; Mrs. Dudley Miles, house and garden; Mrs. Myrtle R. Stoddard, publicity; Mrs. William A. Sumner, hospitality; Mrs. Blanche M. Mack, house; Mrs. Mildred R. Hill, flower arrangement; Mrs. Walter C. Adams, rental; and Miss Mabel Stark, library.

Reception Honors Foreign Students

During a garden reception on September 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Fletcher, members of the Citizens' International Student Committee honored the 26 new students from other countries who entered Monterey Peninsula College this semester.

At the informal party Mrs. Walter Lehmann and Mrs. Charles Trumbly assisted Mrs. Fletcher at the tea table. Mrs. A. W. Elkington and Mrs. Richard E. Bell, vice chairmen of the committee, made the arrangements for the reception.

Among the guests were students from Hong Kong, Iran, Korea, Ethiopia, Fiji Islands, Japan, Macao, San Salvador, Thailand, Greece, the Philippines and Kuwait.

Hans von Richter, chairman of the committee, welcomed the students and, in a short talk, enu-

Captain Charles M. Jett (USN Ret.), at right, shows Commander W. C. Stowers, operations officer of the U.S. Naval Air Facility in Monterey, plans for the forthcoming visit to the Peninsula of the Navy's famed precision jet-flying team, the Blue Angels.

The free air show in which the team will appear on October 3 will include an open house at the facility, demonstrations of sky diving, lifesaving by helicopter and airplane crash fire fighting, also planned fly-bys by other military aircraft and static displays of modern aerospace equipment such as a mock-up of the Lunar Mission module.

This air-show will be held in conjunction with Kiwanis International Kids Day. Jack Caldwell, president of the Carmel Kiwanis Club, announces that the Carmel Valley and Peninsula Kiwanis clubs, along with the Kiwanis clubs of Marina and Castroville, are co-sponsoring the event as a means of entertaining the children of their respective communities.

The general public is also invited to visit the air facility. Open house events will start at 11 a.m. The Blue Angels will begin their demonstration at 2 p.m. The air show will end following the Blue Angels performances.

Mrs. J. B. Farrior sits at a work table in her Hatton Fields Mesa home where the workshop of the sewing booth has been turning out articles to be sold at the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Flea Market. This will be presented on October 7 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. The proceeds of this project will be divided equally among the Logan Hall School for Retarded Children, the Building Fund of the New Monterey Neighborhood Center and the Monterey USO.

Studio's 'Sunday In New York' Is Frothy, Wacky And Wonderful

With a generous dash of spice, one pretty, talented young actress, plus one of the funniest character actresses I've seen in many a moon, also three very able and handsome young men and a "weirdie," "Sunday in New York" opened Friday at the Studio Theatre Restaurant. It is a fast paced, cleverly mounted comedy, another winner for the Studio, and a happy assurance that the theatre's new director, Michael Keller, is a winner too.

Certainly not for prim purists, "Sunday in New York," a long-run hit on Broadway written by Norman Krasna, is all about young love, pre-marital rules and standards, single and not so single. "To do or not to do?"—that is the question—and you will get hilarious answers with never a dull moment!

The love interest whirls about shapely, sparkling Eileen Taylor, played with sustained vivacity by Jonnie Feiten. Eileen has a one-track mind. "Do girls or don't they?"

Adam Taylor, Eileen's brother is played, with just the right big brother who has been around touch, by Paul Feiten. He lies like a gentleman, and gets caught. Mike Mitchell, the young man Eileen becomes entangled with on a Fifth Avenue bus, colorfully portrayed by Paul Elliott, double talks, and, completely bewildered by Eileen's "logic," falls for the gal.

Russell Wilson, filthy rich and a bit stupid, is the honorable gent who doesn't know what it's all about. Characterized with experienced skill by Walter Kightly II, Russell wins applause, if not the girl.

If this all confuses the reader, that's the idea. It would be too bad to spoil your fun with a blow by blow analysis of "Sunday in New York." It is frothy, wacky and wonderful!

In extremely clever costumes, Miss Judie Messier and John Soprano play two short roles each. Their characterizations are delightful. As a ladies' room attendant in Longchamps, Miss Messier is the original popeyed dumb Dora. Appearing in really exquisite Japanese costume, her bowing dignity is grace itself.

John Soprano's unnamed lout in the moving picture theatre is satisfyingly furtive and unpleasant. As the Japanese maitre d'hotel he is more oily than French salad dressing.

Told in two acts and nine scenes "Sunday in New York" is a triumph for set designer Mell Hoover and production stage manager, Hampton Stewart III. Ruth Anderson and Judy Carr do a splendid job with properties. Lightning quick scene shifts before the eyes of the audience are clever and amusing.

We salute the young cast at the Studio Theatre Restaurant. We welcome Director Michael Keller to Carmel's little theatre. We congratulate producers Betty Hackett and Royden Martin on their choice for the opening show of their 1964-65 winter season.

Dinner and performance are presented Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Studio Restaurant Theatre.

Forest Theater Is First Of Its Kind In United States

With all the current discussion and interest centering around the establishment of a cultural center for Carmel on the Sunset School site, Carmel residents are apt to forget one of the greatest contributions to the city's reputation as a center of the arts... the Forest Theater.

Herbert Heron, former mayor, also founder of the Forest Theater, brought to the Pine Cone this week letters from Richard H. Palmer of Iowa City, Iowa, giving an important fact about what was once a focus for community life and drama in Carmel.

"I think I have made the most thorough study of the outdoor theatres in this country presently available and, as well as I can tell, the Forest Theater is not only the first community theater in California, but in the entire country," Mr. Palmer says in a letter to Mr. Heron.

"There were, of course," he adds, "open air theatres as early as 1896, but none served such a distinct community function as the Forest Theater. From indications you give in your letter, I don't think any founded even after the Forest Theater have had as continuing a record of serious dramatic production."

For the past several years the Forest Theater has been used for free Sunday afternoon performances sponsored by the Carmel Arts Commission. One of these is the annual concert given by the Stuart Highlanders Pipe and Drum Band.

The city council had hoped to repair and recondition the city-owned Forest Theater for more extensive use this year. However, in budget sessions, funds allocated for this work had to be stringently curtailed.

Only dramatic productions at the city's outdoor theatre in recent years have been the plays presented the past three summers by the children's drama class which is a part of the school district's summer recreation program.

TOWN HOUSE PROGRAMS

"Hawaii the Beautiful" is the subject Mrs. Walter Blascoe will discuss on Wednesday at Carmel Foundation Town House. She will talk first at 1:30 p.m. and repeat her discussion at 3 p.m. Color slides taken on her trip to the Hawaiian Islands will be used to illustrate both programs.

Each Sunday afternoon until Thanksgiving there will be an Open House from 2-4 p.m. at Town House. This coming Sunday further discussion of Barbara Ward's book, "Rich and Poor Nations" will take place during this period.

Tea will follow both the Wednesday and Sunday programs. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Former schoolmates, Phyllis Brosche, the daughter of Mrs. Audrey B. Brosche of Carmel and Philip Brosche of Paradise, California, and Larry Dufur, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Dufur of Carmel Valley, were married in All Saints' Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon, the Reverend Peter Farmer officiating.

Phyllis, who was given away by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a fingertip sleeved bodice and A-line skirt. Her shoulder veil was topped with a tiny satin pillbox and her bridal bouquet was of white butterfly orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Jeri Caughey of Fresno was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Juanita Brosche, sister of the bride; Miss Josephine Harder and Miss Norma Sengenberger of Monterey; Miss Sherry Grant of Santa Maria; and Miss Judy Newman of Burlingame. The attendants wore matching dresses of frosted coral satin and each carried a single long-stemmed rust-toned chrysanthemum.

David Fuller of Carmel was Larry's best man. The ushers were Mike Glover of Carmel Valley, and Larry's cousins, Robert Painter of Paso Robles and Wayne Dufur of San Leandro.

Mrs. Brosche, mother of the bride, wore a sheath of deep violet silk. Her pill box hat of mink matched her stole, and her corsage was of white orchids.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Dufur wore a beige and gold ensemble with brown accessories and a corsage of golden bronze orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Dufur cut their four-tiered cake at a champagne reception held in the American Legion Hall in Carmel.

For travel, the bride wore a forest green Italian knit ensemble with white accessories.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the young couple will make their home in Pacific Grove.

Larry and Phyllis are both Carmel High School graduates. Upon receiving his diploma Larry enlisted in the U.S. Navy and since his discharge has been employed in construction. Phyllis is a graduate of Monterey Peninsula College.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN MEET TOMORROW

United Church Women of the Monterey Peninsula will hold the first fall meeting tomorrow at Hilltop Methodist Church, Hilby and Noche Buena avenues, in Seaside, beginning at 11 a.m. Subject of the morning session will be the nature of the organization, its aims and purposes. Women's church groups throughout the Peninsula are affiliated with this organization.

Luncheon will be served at noon by the hostess church for $1.00, for which reservations must have been made, or members may bring their own sandwiches. Baby sitters will be provided both morning and afternoon in order that all women who desire may attend.

At 1:00 p.m. the 17 propositions on the November ballot will be presented by a representative of the League of Women Voters. All interested women, whether or not they are members of any church group, are invited to attend, as this is a public service of the organization.

PLANNERS APPROVE HANDLEY DEVELOPMENT

Yesterday afternoon, the Carmel Planning Commission approved a building permit for a court development on property owned by J. O. Handley between Mission and Junipero at Fourth.

The plans approved were a modified rendering of those submitted the week before to the commission. This set of plans was the fourth submitted to the commission for this development. The previous three had not been deemed suitable.

H. L. Doolittle

In failing health for the past year, Harold Leslie Doolittle died Monday, September 21, in a rest home in Los Gatos.

Mr. Doolittle was born in San Jose, March 30, 1908. He attended elementary school and high school in Pacific Grove.

A veteran, with seven years of military service in World War II and the Korean conflict, Mr. Doolittle worked for an additional seven years at Hill Air Force Base, Ogden, Utah. Illness forced his retirement. Recently he had made his home with a brother, Wallace Doolittle, whose home is at Carpenter and Second in Carmel.

In addition to his brother, Wallace, Mr. Doolittle is survived by a brother and sister, Stanley M. Doolittle and Mrs. Jean Burton, both of San Jose; and a third brother, Kenneth J. Doolittle of Monterey; also numerous nieces and nephews.

Private services were held yesterday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with Dr. Elliott Cole of the Mayflower Church officiating.

Private burial followed in El Carmelo Cemetery. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

William C. Bullard

William Carl Bullard, father of the late Wilma Cook, who was for many years editor of the Carmel Pine Cone, died on Sunday in San Luis Obispo, following a short illness.

Mr. Bullard was born in Alvarado, California, on October 27, 1878, and remained a resident of California throughout his lifetime. After 41 years of service as an engineer for the Southern Pacific Railroad, Mr. Bullard retired in 1945. His wife, Mathilda Bullard, died in 1945, and from 1947 onward Mr. Bullard made his home in San Luis Obispo.

Through the years, Mr. Bullard made frequent visits to Carmel to visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Cook, and

I see that fathers are still keeping ahead of their sons on Carmel Bay. The season's standings for the Stillwater Yacht Club show that George Yates led his son, Van, by eight points and Mark Raggett had his son, Jon, trailing him by 93 points.

This is a comfort to us Dads who have to contend with so much competition but I'm afraid George is going to have a tough time next year keeping ahead of Van.

Dr. Eric Berne got a "red carpet reception" when he returned to Reamer's Beach Sunday almost straight from a second visit to the hospital where he'd left his appendix a couple of weeks ago. The author of "Games People Play" stepped not onto the sand when he finished descending the steps down the cliff but onto a piece of red carpet provided by Frank Lloyd, acting beachmaster, who also blew a horn to announce Dr. Berne's arrival.

Mr. Lloyd was appointed to act as beachmaster pro tem by the august holder of this noble office. Louis Conlan, when Louis was in the hospital some months ago. Louis was appointed to his job by Senator Fred Farr and has a California State Senate proclamation to prove it.

This unique honor was bestowed upon him after years of seeing small children weren't caught in the surf, shoeing dogs away from untended picnic hampers, waving at passing soldiers in Fort Ord had many friends in Carmel.

He is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Herbert Guilford of Santa Cruz; a granddaughter, Mathilda Cook Matteson of Pullman, Washington; and his son-in-law in Carmel.

Rosary was recited on Tuesday evening at the Paul Funeral Chapel in Pacific Grove. A Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday morning in St. Angela's Roman Catholic Church with private entombment following at Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

buses, greeting inquisitive whales when they poked their heads above the waves and other sundry, but not onerous, duties.

And, it must be admitted, these tasks were only undertaken between long naps in the hot sun. Another instance of the Carmel way of life!

Carmel's municipal peach tree will continue to grace Junipero Avenue when this street is widened and beautified. How the city acquired its bit of orchard seems to be a mystery, but someone must have decided some years ago to plant the tree which now bears fruit . . . but not much. My careful investigation revealed only two peaches on the tree and one on the sidewalk below. At this point Street Superintendent Bill Askeu shouted, "Leave those peaches alone." And all the time I thought I was invisible. Nothing seems to be missed by Bill's bright blue eyes.

Descended as I am from a pine, nothing upsets me more than to see these trees cut down. Just one thing causes me more pain. That is to see stumps starkly reminding me of what has been lost to Carmel . . . and I never thought I would welcome a once-beautiful area being bulldozed bare. But this week I have rejoiced to see some bulldozing at the corner of San Carlos and Thirteenth. Now all the stumps of pines, also oaks, which made me sad every time I got down that way are gone. Adios amigos!

After listening to council discussion on the plight of trees last night, Ted Fehring, chairman of the uses subcommittee of the Sunset Committee, facetiously suggested to the city council that he had a new idea for Sunset School after it becomes city property.

"Demolish the buildings and plant trees," Ted proposed.

Now that really would insure the retention of Carmel's urban forest . . . and would I be happy, especially if the council outlawed squirrels.

Congers Sail For Orient

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Conger sailed on Saturday, aboard the S.S. Washington, a States Line deluxe mariner liner, for a two months tour of the Orient, on a long delayed honeymoon. The former Harriet Rider of Carmel and Melvin Conger of Monterey, the latter associated with the Work Lumber Company for the past 28 years, were married in Reno on May 15.

Due to the press of business obligations, (Harriet has been owner and active manager of Carmel's Hour Glass Shop since 1948), the couple postponed their wedding trip.

This journey aboard the S.S. Washington is the second for Mrs. Conger, who took practically the same tour two years ago. On this voyage Mr. and Mrs. Conger will occupy the V.I.P. suite.

Upon their return "about Thanksgiving time," the Congers will occupy their home on Ocean avenue at Forest. They plan, during the coming year to landscape their adjoining lot, making it available to the public as a Carmel woodland area.

Eighth Grandchild

Mrs. Julian von Meier's eighth grandchild arrived on September 12. Jonn Christian II is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonn Christian (Karen von Meier) of San Francisco. He weighed eight pounds, thirteen ounces, and was greeted by one brother, Brian, and two sisters, Adrienne and Seanneen.

Recipe Runner-Up

Mrs. A. Heshmati of Mission Fields has won a runner-up prize in a national recipe contest to discover new ways of using leftovers. The contest was sponsored by the R. T. French Company.

Birthday Party

Mrs. John Nesbitt was the hon- or guest at a birthday party given for her by her son, Brian Casiday, and her daughter, Penelope Nesbitt, on September 12. The party gave Brian an opportunity to say "goodbye for a while" before he left for Berkeley to enroll at the University of California. Last year he attended St. John's College in Maryland.

Guests Of The Kings

Before taking off for a tour of the Orient, Jean O'Brien Gelsen, who now lives in San Francisco, made a short visit to Carmel to say goodbye to her many friends here. She was the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Van King, Jr.

Other recent visitors of the Kings were Mr. King's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel B. King of Nevada City, for whom the Malcolm Millards entertained at brunch in their Carmel Valley home.

Roof Celebration

Last week-end a large wreath of pine boughs appeared atop a pole above the roof of Lise Tescher's new home still under construction in the Walker Tract. On Friday, a Scandinavian custom was observed when Mrs. Tescher gave an informal party to celebrate the placing of the roof beams. Guests were all the workers who have taken part in the construction of her new home so far. Her parents, Mr and Mrs. Carl P. Vetter helped her with the celebration.

Ethiopian Party

"A Night in Ethiopia" will be the theme of a dinner in honor of Professor Harold Stump at the Studio Lagorio in Carmel on Saturday.

Mr. Stump, professor of architecture, University of California, has just returned from a summer in Ethiopia exploring and recording its unique rock-cut churches. He promises to relate details of his adventures to the guests, including his meeting with a learned and charming princess—daughter of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Joining in the festivities will be Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klene of Carmel Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bissantz, and Mr. Leonard Heller.

Hostesses Elena and Irene Lagorio have planned a menu in keeping with the spirit of the evening. Elmer Lagorio will be driving from Berkeley with Prof. Stump for the occasion.

Brand New!

Sara Jean Demetry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Demetry arrived September 13, weighing five pounds plus. She is at home now on Mission street and her mother states that she is a blonde... as far as anyone can tell. Sara Jean is the Demetry's first child.

New Appointment

Dr. Louis de Vries, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. de Vries of Carmel, has been appointed to the position of research associate at the Richmond laboratory of the California Research Corporation, a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company.

Dr. de Vries received his B.S. degree from the University of Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and his Ph.D. in physical organic chemistry from the University of California, Los Angeles. He has been associated with the Richmond research laboratory since 1956 and has become an expert in research involving synthesis of polymers for use as lubricating oil additives.

Honeymooners to Return

Due to return Saturday from a honeymoon in Hawaii were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gilbert Kauffman who were married in Carmel on September 5. Mrs. Kauffman is the former Dorothy Claire Harp. She and her husband will make their home in Palm Springs.

Talcott Chairman

Mrs. Steven H. Sassoon will be the Carmel chairman in the campaign to re-elect Congressman Burt L. Talcott. She is an officer of the Carmel Republican Women's Club, a member of the Monterey County Symphony Guild, and has been active in the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula. Her husband is president of the Carmel Rotary Club. Those wishing to assist Mrs. Sassoon may reach her by telephoning 624-1664.

Wins Award

Norman F. Avery of Carmel, civilian publications officer for the adjutant general section at Fort Ord, was given an award recently for "putting a little extra effort into his job," according to an Army release. He was presented with a check for $150 and a department of the army certificate for "sustained superior performance over the past six months," the release adds.

Finishes Course

City Councilman Stephen A. Grant has just completed a special 34-week professional course in business insurance planning. He is a special agent for the Monterey agency office of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Every Saturday night... outstanding cuisine from 7 to 10 p.m., gay music from 7 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. For reservations, telephone MA 4-3811 Gate fee refunded with all meals in dining room.

Campaign For Johnson

Phyllis and Eugene Theroux have been here visiting Phyllis's parents the John Grissims.

Gene is national associate director in the Young Citizens for Johnson and, with Senator Fred Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Theroux attended the reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Talcott Bates last week for Governor Edmund G. Brown. The reception was a "curtain raiser" for the fund raising rally in support of Democratic Party candidates at the Fairgrounds.

Phyllis was delighted to have a chance to talk to the Governor about his daughter, Kathy, with whom she had worked in Washington on Fred Dutton's Committee on Resolutions and Platform.

Phyllis told us that Polly Gann was a working member on the committee, too, and that they had a grand time during the convention in Atlantic City "talking Carmel," and young Nancy Farr was Eugene's "volunteer" assistant. Polly is back in Washington, still in the thick of Democratic Party excitement.

land well in advance of President Johnson's campaign visit, to make arrangements for the President's reception.

Phyllis plans to teach history, English and ethics at the Canterbury School in Maryland this winter.

Gene, along with his political duties, will be studying law at night.

In Citadel Cadre

Citadel Military Academy cadet Mark M. Serrem, the son of Colonel and Mrs. E. M. Serrem, and grandson of Mrs. Clarissa Mitchell of Carmel, has returned to the academy in Charleston, South Carolina, to take up his duties as a member of the training cadre.

The cadre is composed of a group of specially selected students who have been intensively trained to assist in the orientation of freshmen.

Mark reported back to the Citadel on September 1 to prepare for Plebe Week, September 8 to 15. He is a member of the Regimental Staff, holding the rank of Color Sergeant.

Carmel 40 Years Ago This Month

(As Compiled From Pine Cone Files)

The monthly meeting of the city fathers (and mother) was held last Tuesday night. Not much of importance happened, except perhaps the passage of another sewer system ordinance.

The tax rate for 1924-25 was fixed at $1 on each $100 of assessed valuation of real and personal property.

City Clerk Saidee van Brower is to have a new typewriter and an adding machine, the board decreed.

The county tax rate for 1924-25, fixed by the board of supervisors, is $2.28 1/2 per $100. This is one and one-half cents less than last year's rate.

The foregoing rate is for sections outside of incorporated cities. The "inside" rate is 40 cents less.

Peter, Peter writeometer, Had a Liz and couldn't keep her. For a human act one day he fell, And now he drives a Chev quite well.

Peter Mawdsley had the ticket which awarded him the Chevrolet touring car given away by the Carmel Humane Society.

How he got that ticket is an interesting story. He was on his way to the drug store. This took him past Paul Denny's Chevrolet salesroom. He stopped to admire the prize car, compared it with his old Ford and decided then and there to invest, though he had but 63 cents in his jeans. That 50-cent investment paid big interest!

The Dummage store building on the southwest corner of Ocean Avenue and Dolores Street will be completed in three weeks. The big pine on the corner will remain.

Thousands of automobiles were in Carmel over Labor Day, probably the largest number ever here in one day.

C. D. Kinsman and his wife were conducted to Carmel by L. J. Fletcher to be overnight guests of his mother, Mrs. Etta Fletcher, last week-end. Mr. Kinsman of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., is inspecting power as applied to agriculture throughout California which is far in advance of any other state in this respect. Professor Fletcher, head of the agricultural engineering division of the University of California, is piloting Mr. Kinsman's trip and arranged for a few hours of concentrated California beauty by the brief visit here.

A fire started shortly after 10 o'clock last Sunday morning caused by a bolt of lightning which first struck a tree on the Presidio reservation and then darted to one of the immense tanks on Lighthouse Avenue in New Monterey at once setting it on fire and endangering hundreds of lives and many acres of property.

It was not until Tuesday morning, after two days and two nights of superhuman effort on the part of firefighters that the flames were brought under control.

That the fire was halted on its mad sweep toward Pacific Grove is due entirely to the heroic and unceasing work of the men of Carmel's fire department. We are proud of our boys.

(In the Carmel crew were Robert G. Leidig, first assistant fire chief, Fred Ammerman and Pon Chung.)

While people were just recovering from the big fire in Monterey, the Carmel siren at 9:30 Tuesday night got everybody "het up" again.

The James Hopper residence on the southern slope of the Eighty Acres tract was burning.

The house is almost entirely destroyed. The Hoppers will rebuild. (This house was rebuilt and later sold to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert who still live in it. The house destroyed by the fire was sold by its first owner, George Sterling, to the Hoppers. This house, the Pine Cone of 40 years ago this week says, "was Carmel's literary center where not only local literary lights, but writers from other places as well gathered including, Jack London, Gertrude Atherton, and Ambrose Bierce.")

Several carpenters are at work on the construction of the frame on the new residence which is being built for the misses Denny and Watrous in north Carmel.

Warren-Haskins Wedding Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pias and daughters Tina Warren and Charlene Pias will leave tomorrow for a trip to Carson City, Nevada. It is hoped that three other daughters of Mrs. Pias from Laguna Beach, Lomita and San Clemente will also arrive in the Nevada city by Monday, the date set for the wedding of Tina Warren and Ralph D. Haskins. Mr. Haskins is a member of the U.S. Forest Service, presently on a leave of absence, and formerly stationed at the Salmon Creek Guard Station of the Los Padres National Forest located on Highway One near the San Luis Obispo county line. For a period this summer, Mr. Haskins was a member of the Big Sur Guard Station. Tina is well-known in the Big Sur community. This past summer she was employed at Redwood Lodge, prior to that she was associated with the Carmel Valley Manor and Blum's of Carmel and is a former student at Monterey Peninsula College.

NATIONAL

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Taking part in the observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10 will be members of the Big Sur Guard Station of the U.S. Forest Service, the Big Sur Maintenance Station of the Division of Highways, members of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross in Big Sur, the Monterey County Sheriff's representative and a member of the Highway Patrol. On October 7 from 7 until 10:00 p.m. an open meeting will be held at the guard station, located just south of Pfeiffer State Park on Highway One. During that week special programs will be presented by these public services at the Captain Cooper and Palo Colorado schools. At both the open meeting (to which all residents and visitors in the area are invited), also at the schools, there will be demonstrations of fire suppression and containment, displays of fire fighting equipment, including trucks, tanker and tractor, also the Red Cross ambulance stationed at Big Sur.

AWARDED

ANDOVER SCHOLARSHIP

Roger Riley, a former student of the Palo Colorado School, has just enrolled as a junior at Andover Academy in Newton Centre, Massachusetts. For two years Roger attended the unique, one-room school on the Sur Coast, then at the end of his seventh school year, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Riley, and Roger moved to Castroville. Some time ago, the Rileys received word that young Roger had won a scholarship, but it was a conditional one. To further qualify for this honor, Roger, together with 54 other students attended an eight-week summer school program on the campus of Dartmouth College in New Hampshire. To receive his scholarship, each student was required to pass scholastically and socially the demands of the course. The program, a pilot one, is called ABC (A Better Chance) and represents the combined thought and resources of the Rockefeller Foundation, Dartmouth College and the Independent School Talent Search Program. Of the 54 students in the ABC program, 44 were Negroes. In a recent issue of Time Magazine there is an article about ABC and its director, Charles Dey, associate dean of Dartmouth, and also a picture of Roger Riley taken during the summer program.

GOLDESES MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Goldes and family have recently moved from their home in Palo Colorado Canyon to a new home in Northern California near the Oregon border. Mr. Goldes was engaged in the real estate business in Palo Colorado and had formed a new corporation called Wilderness Communities, patterned after a similar program carried on in Vermont. The corporation is set up to buy large parcels of land with donated and borrowed funds and then released through a cooperative. Mr. Goldes hopes to further Wilderness Communities in his new area. Earlier this year, Mark Goldes was included in one of the seminars at the Big Sur Hot Springs giving talks on "Ideas For A Universal University," as founder of Emerson College, Pacific Grove, and teacher of Pasternak College.

MASTENS MOVE TO PALO COLORADO

When the Ric Masten family moved from Carmel to the Palo Colorado Canyon area, they did so for several reasons, one was to enable them to "literally live off the land," another, to give Mr. Masten opportunity to pursue his vocation as a painter and song writer, and still another, to give the Masten children the interesting and happy experience of attending the unusual one-room Palo Colorado school. Each of the reasons for moving to this beautiful coastal area is being fulfilled. Mr. and Mrs. Masten have purchased a four-acre ranch, called El Aguila (The Eagle), a hillside property in the upper Palo Colorado Canyon, eight miles from Highway One. In the short time they have owned the property, 40 fruit trees have been planted, many berry bushes and garden vegetables, too, and already the garden is yielding corn and salad foods. Their home, designed by Norman Godbe of Bixby Creek, and partially built when they purchased it, is nearing completion.

The present family project is hand-excavating for a future swimming pool. The next major construction will be the artist's studio. The plan is to build it of "ram and earth," a primitive method, pressing earth tightly together and forming very thick walls, thus producing a completely fireproof structure.

The four Masten children, Jerri, April, Stuart and Ellen Min, are each enrolled in Palo Colorado school and are delighted with their new school program and surroundings.

Ric Masten was born here and is well-known in the community for his work at the Forest Theater where he did the lyrics and sets for a number of musicals. He is a prolific song writer and has almost 50 published works, including many rock and roll, country western and folk songs. In their new home and community, the Mastens plan to continue their work with the Masterville Music Company.

'SAND PIPER' FILMING

Day and night, the cast and crew, the cameras, cranes, trucks, buses and limousines continue to move up and down the Sur coast in the work of filming "The Sandpiper." The night skies at Doud Beach and Nepenthe have recently been filled with powerful lights used in filming at these locations. Pfeiffer Beach scenes have been included in this week's work. Last Saturday, traffic on Highway One was temporarily halted at Bixby Creek bridge while Elizabeth Taylor was "on camera" at that famous coastal landmark.

GRAVEL PLANT PERMIT

Permission was given by the Monterey County Planning Commission last week for temporary operation of a gravel plant on the Little Sur River, near where it crosses Highway One. One of the specific restrictions on the permit approval is that the materials are to be used only for the resurfacing of Highway One from the Carmel Highlands to the Big Sur River. Contractor for the project is the Madonna Construction Company working under contract to the State Division of Highways. Highway One from the Big Sur River south to Anderson Creek is presently in process of resurfacing.

Captain Kenneth C. Gould Jr. (right) recently was awarded the U.S. Air Force Air Medal with one oak leaf cluster at Hurlburt Field, Florida. The award was made for meritorious achievement in aerial flight over Viet Nam. Brigadier General Gilbert L. Pritchard (left) made the presentation.

Captain Gould is the son of Mrs. Amy J. Gould of Carmel Valley and Kenneth C. Gould of Portola Valley. He was born in Carmel and attended school here. His grandmother is Mrs. Mary A. Gould of Carmel.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

By this time you all know that the library was closed for two days two weeks ago. The main reason was the redecorating of the children's and young people's rooms but it was not this disease which killed us, it was the complications. Those old 1927 bookshelves in the rooms were so pitted and scarred that the primer coat had to be sprayed on to give a reasonably smooth surface. And the fireplace "draw," for which Maybeck was famous, drew the paint vapor right down into the main reading room. Alas and alack, all over tables, chairs, periodicals and books there appeared a fine yellow patina which had to be washed off. Both library staff and janitor worked far into the night and most of Sunday to clear out enough so that we could open again on Monday. After an ordeal like that we shudder when we hear the oft-repeated remark that library work must be easy and such fun, surrounded as we are by books and gentle people who love reading.

Speaking of gentle people, we have MISSISSIPPI, THE CLOSED SOCIETY by James Silver who is a history professor at the University of Mississippi. He speaks of the state's commitment to the doctrine of white supremacy and the road this doctrine has followed over the years, which has led to the present condition of moral chaos. This is an important book.

His real name is William Henry Joseph Bonaparte Bertholoff Smith but everybody knows him as Willie the Lion Smith, a very important personality in the history of jazz. His book is called MUSIC ON MY MIND. He is a jazz pianist, a composer, an astrologist, a Hebrew Cantor of deep faith, and now a writer. The way he writes is probably pretty much the way he talks. Duke Ellington did the foreword. Baby, if you dig jazz, don't pass by this way without stoppin'!

Four men who exercised supreme command in the first World War are discussed by Correlli Barnett in his book THE SWORD-BEARERS. The men are Colonel General von Molke, Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, General Philippe Pétain, and finally General Erich Ludendorff. This is a book which will especially interest our military people who remember from personal experience the first big war.

A book which should have meaning for all of us is GOD'S OWN JUNKYARD by Peter Blake. Using a few chapters of text and many, many photographs he shows us what signs, billboards, junkyards, and other unlovely objects are doing to our landscapes all over the country. It isn't that people do not care, it is that they do not care enough to do something about all this. This one is a don't miss.

A not-large book on English furniture is by Edward Joy and covers the subject from the year 43 A.D. through 1950. The book was written in 1962, so why he stopped with 1950 is hard to know, but he did. Anyway, the title is ENGLISH FURNITURE, which is both plain and easy.

Lastly, we have THE SCRUTABLE EAST by Robert Trumbull who has spent most of his time in Southeast Asia since 1946. He knows those troubled countries and has followed their histories first-hand, reporting on them for the New York Times. Perhaps he can make them scrutable to us.

Come in and take a brief look at the children's department while you are here. Sunny and colorful, only the best is good enough for our children! And the first child who puts his initial on this fresh paint is going to get a black eye, for we'd rather FIGHT than clean!

ONE GIFT WORKS MANY WONDERS
GIVE THE UNITED WAY

Think up! More people are flying today than ever before. In fact, at any one moment there are as many as 20,000 commercial and military planes in the air over this country. If you travel by air, you've probably noticed the impressive role your telephone plays in travel planning. You usually call up for reservations and flight information first off. Then, you reconfirm or check departure and arrival times by phone, right? But the telephone's importance to flying doesn't stop there—no siree! A 350,000 mile Bell System network of telephone and teletypewriter lines—one of the world's fastest communications systems—links together the major air traffic control centers, radar stations, airport towers, weather bureaus, airlines, and military bases throughout the USA to help assure your comfort and safety while flying.

Conductor John Gosling Announces Soloists For Symphony Concerts

Details of the Monterey County Symphony's 19th season, which will open with concerts in Salinas and Carmel on October 26-27 respectively, have just been released by Conductor John Gosling.

A roster of outstanding international, regional and local artists are scheduled to appear with the orchestra on its regular subscription series.

Pianist Grant Johannesen, who has been acclaimed on four continents, will make his first appearance with the orchestra playing Brahms' Piano Concerto No. 2. His appearance here is part of a winter concert schedule that includes appearances with leading U.S. orchestras, a series of solo recitals and several European tours.

Another high point of the season will be the appearance of violist Rolf Persinger. Considered one of the great exponents of his instrument, Mr. Persinger has won critical acclaim for his performances with the Chicago Symphony, Minneapolis Symphony, NBC Symphony and the Guleit String Quartet. He will be heard in a performance of the Bartok Viola Concerto.

Saint-Saens' delightful "Carnival of the Animals" will be the showcase for the talents of two popular local pianists, Camille Olaeta and Wade Parks. Both have performed extensively in the West and particularly in this area.

Concluding the season will be a performance of the Verdi Requiem featuring the combined Hartnell-Community Chorus and the Monterey Peninsula College Community Chorus. Violinist David Abel and cellist Bonnie Hampton, previously scheduled to play the Brahms' Double Concerto, will not appear this season.

In addition to the regular season, the symphony will again sponsor its Youth Concerts, Chamber Concert Series and performances by the newly formed Youth Orchestra.

Only a few scattered tickets remain for the Carmel performances, however Salinas Series tickets are still available. Season tickets will be mailed shortly.

Audition Saturday For Boys' Choir

Monterey County Symphony conductor John Gosling and Robert Forbes, organist of All Saints' Episcopal Church, announce auditions for the interdenominational Boys' Choir Training Program will be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in All Saints' parish hall.

Boys between 8 and 14 years of age are eligible for choir membership which affords them instruction in elements of music and vocal methods under the tutelage of Mr. Gosling and Mr. Forbes.

Although the choir rehearses in All Saints' Church, the directors welcome invitations to perform church music for services anywhere on the Monterey Peninsula.

During the 1963-64 season, the choir sang in Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, and in Big Sur, in addition to local appearances.

A registration fee of $5.00 is required of applicants who are accepted for the choir. There is no charge made for auditioning. Further information may be had by calling 624-3883.

First Free Film At MPC Tomorrow

"Professor Hannibal," Hungarian film written and directed by Zoltan Fabri, will open the Fall, 1964, Theater Arts Group film series at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow.

Two screenings are scheduled in the MPC Music Hall at 7 and 9 p.m. Free tickets for either performance may be picked up in the college administration office, or will be mailed on request. No season tickets will be issued this year.

New to the West, director-writer Fabri is already of provocative interest at the international film festivals. His "Professor Hannibal" was selected for exhibition at the 1958 Edinburgh Festival. Also shown will be the Hungarian "Variations on a Theme."

invited to attend the clinic, now in its second year of operation.

Highlight of the evening will be an 18-minute color soundslide film entitled "They Shall Not Pass." It outlines 11 methods merchants can use to eliminate bad check losses, estimated to exceed $25 million annually in California.

The film also emphasizes that check supplies and equipment used by individuals, corporations, or even government agencies can be obtained and used by clever forgers, making it necessary for merchants to thoroughly identify check presenters.

A second soundslide film will deal with the proper methods of handling cash and exposes some of the techniques used by short change artists.

In addition to the films, the clinic will utilize display panels showing bogus checks, counterfeit currency, and methods of comparing signatures, and conclude with a question and answer period, also distribution of pamphlets summarizing the clinic's salient points.

NATIONAL MERIT SEMIFINALISTS

Four Carmel High School seniors are National Merit Awards semi-finalists it was announced by the school this morning.

They are Andrew M. Miller, Clyn Smith, Erica Steinberger and Lois M. Watson.

These students are among the top two percent, academically, of students in 17,000 high schools in the United States.

Andrew, "Bud," Erica and Lois will next take college entrance board examinations. In April, judged on the results of these tests, National Merit Award winners will be named.

Bank Of America's Bad Check Clinic Tonight In Carmel

Local merchants will have a chance tonight to "immunize" themselves against bogus check passers who silently rob California businesses of millions of dollars every year.

The opportunity will be afforded by Bank of America's traveling Merchants Loss Prevention Clinic, which will appear at 7:30 p.m. in the Carmel branch, Ocean Avenue and Mission. Manager August H. Johnson and J. Thomas Hefling, manager of the Carmel Valley branch, will co-host the two-hour program.

I got to thinking about Satan and idle hands . . . and the preciousness of handmade things, fabrics and metals and leathers . . . I've found TREASURES, no two exactly alike—to wear, to use, to gloat over . . .

With an absolute genius for creating mad and beautiful at-home fashions for sophisticates with a sense of humor, Mary, May has really topped her best this time! Hostess Aprons! In ticking or burlap. Sound as though they're for the hardworking cook? Don't be silly!! They're floor length, they're in brilliant color — the burlap affairs have great patches of contrasting colors . . . the ticking model is bordered with ball fringe. Oh well, you've got to see!! There are slacks, with the new wide, wide pants on the way, too. And the housecoats, created from three velvet (terry cloth faced) bath towels. You can buy three towels and make one yourself—but just look at Mary May's models—and why cramp your style? Mary May's isn't really a fashion shop—it is a treasure trove of exquisite handmade accessories for your home. The Hangover Harriet and Harry Hats, (ice cap and sleep mask sets) will slay you! Beautiful, colorful mobiles; the Around the World Pincushion plays a tune! Felt encased mirrors! Scented flower night lights! If your home life is slipping . . . if you're searching for a status gift, MARY MAY, SOUTHWEST CORNER, DOLORES AND SIXTH.

It seems to me there is nothing more precious to our way of life than the tiny mechanism that records the seconds, minutes and hours—your watch! For centuries the finest watches in the world have come from Switzerland, where the art of watchmaking has been passed down in families for generations. Grandson and son of famed watch makers and graduate of the Horological Institute of Switzerland, Henri Corbat is right here in Carmel, presenting Swiss watches of flawless workmanship and unique beauty, for both men and women. He also creates jewelry for women and is a certified diamond appraiser, graduate of the Gemological Institute of America. Naturally, he is an expert at watch repairing. And you must see the exquisite watch he made entirely by hand upon his graduation from the world's foremost academy for watchmakers. Don't miss a visit to THE SWISS WATCH MAKER, SAN CARLOS SOUTH OF FIFTH.

Brand new, alive with color, and hosted by a charming and fashion-wise young Mrs. Ferguson, is Ferguson of Dublin where every blessed thing is handmade and is an exclusive import from Ireland.

The handwoven tweeds, in skirts and slacks, man-tailored in Dublin, are superb. The most wonderful textures and dramatically beautiful colors! There are straight, A-line and walking pleat models, flawlessly tailored and, upon the Fergusons' request sized for the American figure. The slacks are already a smashing success in this area, for hiking or just relaxed loafing. Sweaters? All types . . . all hand-knit, beautiful cardigans and pullovers with an endless variety of necklines and collars . . . and of course the fisherman's knit, beloved by all outdoor gals. For a change of pace consider the fine flat knit pull-overs with matching skirts—mohair, of course . . . The stoles are grand, lifesavers in the after sun-down chilly hours. And, very status, a knee rug to match or wildly contrast with your car's upholstery. This isn't blarney — it's beauty, straight from the auld sod! FERGUSON OF DUBLIN IMPORTS, THE MALL, SAN CARLOS BETWEEN SIXTH AND FIFTH.

Ever since Wellington pulled on his famous boots, handmade footwear has been a must with top drawer fashionables, from sportsmen to ballet dancers. The moment I sniffed that unique aroma of fine leather, in The Sandal Spot I started muttering "Boots, boots, boots, slugging over Africa" — I wasn't far wrong. There are Clark of England Desert Boots . . . after-ski boots . . . ankle-bone boots, knee-high boots . . . AND an endless variety of sandals . . . every single type handmade! For men, for women, for children. You may choose from stock, or fall as I did and select your own leather, make your own footprint and order! And don't miss the jackets—of suede, cowhide, in rust, gold or natural, styled for men and women. And! The women's handbags and purses are elegant! THE SANDAL SPOT, EAST SIDE OF LINCOLN NEAR SEVENTH.

Have you ever seen a walking rag doll? I'll admit I've been around, but I had to go over the hill for this one!! And there I found a little girl's (even a big girl's) dream of bliss, The GINA-NAN House of Dolls. It is a studio, a workshop, and a hospital. And it is a spot of enchantment, where artist-craftsman Gina Miller creates her utterly new and different rag dolls. Magically, personality gets inside these little creatures, created of "rags" sprayed with plastic (a very secret process) each blonde, brunette or redhead becomes an individual, spongeable and antiseptic as Dr. Kildare . . . And, given motherly love, she walks! There are p-l-e-n-t-y of other types of dolls, too. And, heaven be praised a repair "hospital" for bruised and battered darlings. Birthday and Christmas gift seekers—your days of frustration are past. Your mecca is the GINA-NAN HOUSE OF DOLLS, 306 FOREST AVENUE, PACIFIC GROVE. (Adv.)

Ruth Cooke Here
"Just like it used to be," is what a friend felt when she ran into Ruth Cooke walking about Carmel this week. Mrs. Cooke now lives in Sausalito but commutes each day to San Francisco where she and a partner operate a book shop.

With a host of friends happily filling the Carmel Presbyterian Church, Cheryl Lucille Sorri, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Sorri, Jr., of Carmel, and Robert Kenneth Boucke, the son of Robert D. Boucke of Pacifica and Mrs. Robert K. Drennon of Carmel, were married on September 12, with the Reverend George Hunter Hall officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, Cheryl wore a "picture" wedding gown of antique peau de sole re-embroidered in seed pearls. Belgian lace appliques paneled the front and sides of the trained skirt, from which her lace-trimmed satin slippers peeped forth. A tiny pillbox of lace held her silk illusion veil. White orchids and streamers of stephanotis were attached to the white Rainbow Girls Bible carried by the bride, whose mother also had carried it at her wedding.

Attending the bride were Susan Sands of Carmel, Mrs. Ronald Johnson of Pacific Grove and Patricia Drennon of Carmel, sister of the bridegroom. The attendants wore matching frocks of gold silk organza over taffeta. Dior head bows and carried muffs fashioned of gold baby chrysanthemums.

As flower girl, Tracy Boucke of Pacifica, also a sister of the bridegroom, carried a basket of cascaded gold chrysanthemums.

Stewart Boucke of Pacifica, youngest brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Drew Boucke was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ronald A. Sorri, brother of the bride, and David May of Pacific Grove.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sorri chose a sleeveless blouson model dress of Swiss brocade. Her accessories were brown and her corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Drennon, mother of the bridegroom, wore a princess line model dress of blue-green Italian brocade, with matching accessories, and white orchids.

A reception at Highlands Inn, in the Point Lobos Room, followed the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon in San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Boucke will make their home in Redwood City.

Return to Carmel

After a summer in Europe, the Raymond M. Smiths are home again, that is, Raymond and Lynne are here, and their three children are off at three different schools.

Douw, who attended the Robert Louis Stevenson School last year in Switzerland, enrolled for one year at the Knabeninstitut Montana Zugerberg, in Zug. An enthusiastic traveler, Douw spent the summer as one of the crew on a freighter that took him to Yokohama. He caught up with his family in New York City earlier this month, and it was a real, if brief, family reunion before they saw him off for Switzerland.

Douw will not return to Carmel until June, but he will not be lonely at Christmas time. The present plan is that he will be with his pal, Lindsay Jeffers, visiting Lindsay's parents, the Donnans Jeffers, at their home in Ireland. "Biff" (Bain), the Smith's eldest son, has returned to Stanford University, a junior this year.

Debbie, the Smith's daughter, is now a student at Castileja School in Palo Alto.

Mrs. Smith, who went to Palo Alto earlier this week, to get Debbie and Biff "settled" in school, will, according to Mr. Smith, who admits to being lonesome, be home again early next week.

Valley Baby

Born on September 15 in Community Hospital was Regan Ann Sherman, the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Sherman of Carmel Valley.

Sunset Committee Told By Council, 'Labor On'

quests and could be so organized as to assume the control of a cultural center.

When Mayor Blanks suggested that the Sunset Committee be directed to develop an immediate program for the use of the school on June 30, 1965; obtain information from other cities on how they had financed cultural centers; also undertake study of whether or not it is practical to improve Sunset auditorium in light of possible construction of a larger facility, Admiral C. W. Fisher, chairman of the structures subcommittee, protested.

If the wings of the committee were clipped by such constrictions on its explorations and could not, therefore, proceed with its study of the development untrammelled "I can no longer serve," Admiral Fisher stated.

This led to unanimous acceptance of the Sunset Committee's interim progress report by the council and the committee was encouraged to "Go Labor On" by Councilman Whittlesey.

During the two-hour discussion of the report, Mayor Blanks and Councilmen Norberg, Whittlesey and James Buffington, each stated they were concerned over a program for the immediate use of Sunset School by the community when it is abandoned by the school district next June.

Councilman Stephen Grant stated that specific uses of the facility must be ascertained, a cost study made, and an architectural program developed before any foundations would even consider granting funds for a cultural center. He based this statement on his past experience as a professional fund raiser, he said.

The Sunset Committee will now proceed with a program to provide the council with further information on the establishment of a cultural center on the Sunset site and complete this work as follows: architectural requirements and date, November 15; assembling of data on the corporation, December 15; complete gathering of fund raising data, January 15; submit the final report of the Sunset Committee, February 1.

Sunset Committee Chairman Frank Putnam told the council, last night, the work done so far by the committee, "Was the greatest job I've ever seen done in public life."

However, Mr. Putnam deplored the lack of interest evidenced by the citizens not working on the Sunset Committee. The public "stayed away in droves" although it was invited to every committee and subcommittee meeting, he declared.

Dorothea Roberts Honored At Reception

ville, Gilroy, Hollister, San Juan Bautista, Watsonville, and two chapters from Santa Cruz.

Presentations were made by the 1964 Grand Officers, Monterey Bay Area Association; Chapters of the 45th District; 1964 Officers of Carmel Chapter; 1959 Grand Officers, Matrons and Patrons, Carmel officers of 1959. Also, the Past Matrons and Patrons of Carmel Chapter. The final presentation was made by Mrs. Robert Little, Carmel's first Deputy Grand Matron, to Mrs. Roberts, Carmel's second Deputy Grand Matron.

Following the presentations, Kenneth Roberts, Worthy Patron of Carmel, invited the guests to the banquet room, where the tables were decorated with pink and red (the color theme of 1964). Of interest to all the guests was the display of carrying pieces and presentations that had been awarded to Mrs. Roberts during her visits to the district's chapters.

The refreshment committee included Mrs. Flo Holm, Mrs. Jesse Olson, Mrs. Clyde Klaumann, Mrs.

NAMED TO SANITARY BOARD

At their September meeting, members of the Carmel Sanitary District Board named J. O. Handley to fill out the unexpired term of the late Allen Knight. Mr. Knight, whose death occurred in August, had been a member of the sanitary district board for 25 years.

Mr. Handley will serve on the board until September, 1966. Other members of the board are W. I. Shepard, H. R. Fonseca, H. C. Arnot and James B. Pruitt. Harry Hilbert is the sanitary district's secretary.

John Craven and Mrs. Andrew Del Monte.

Serving the guests were Mrs. George Bloomer, Mrs. Egon Durr, Mrs. Newton Goodrich, Mrs. Alice Champion and Mrs. Paul Hazdovac.

Door hostesses were Mrs. S. E. Coleman, P.M., and Mrs. John Westover, P.M. Egon Durr, P.P., and N. C. Winslow, P.P., ushered. Mrs. P. J. Leighty, P.M., presided over the guest book.

Presentation gifts were in charge of Mrs. Burleigh Zak, P.M., and corsages were arranged for by Mrs. Paul Tekawa, Mrs. N. C. Winslow and Mrs. Thomas Byers. Mrs. Robert Little, P.M., was chairman of the reception.

Sally Campbell Wed

Sally Elizabeth Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell of Carmel, and James Richard Gearhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Gearhart of Aptos, were married in a Sunday afternoon service before the altar of Carmel Presbyterian Church; the Reverend George Hunter Hall performing the double ring ceremony.

Sally was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of silk organza and re-embroidered lace was traditional with fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. The voluminous skirt extended into a chapel train. A petal crown, seed pearl embroidered, held her three-tiered illusion net veil, and her bridal bouquet was of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were her sister Martha, maid of honor; Mrs. Stephen Harvey of Sacramento, and a former roommate at the University of California, matron of honor; and bridesmaids, Donna Gearhart and Susan Thompson of Berkeley. Wearing cocktail length white brocade dresses, the quartette carried sprays of sun yellow spider chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom chose his brother David, as his best man. Steven Bowen and Jack Ulrich of Los Angeles, also Schuyler Bailey of Berkeley, were ushers. The church patio was the scene of the reception given for the newlywed couple by Sally's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alton H. Walker of Pebble Beach.

Assisting at the bride's table, and serving the guests were Julie Campbell, daughter of Judge Gordon Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, a cousin of the bride; Miss Virginia Miller of Oakland, and Mrs. Stephen Bowen of Los Angeles. Miss Carol Quyle of Pebble Beach presided over the guest book.

Sally, who attended Carmel High School, will graduate in June from the University of California, Berkeley. Richard, who has won his degree in business administration at the same university is, at present, personnel analyst for side Carmel, except in an advisory capacity as the county's zoning laws pertain in the areas adjacent to the city as they do, also, in Carmel Valley.

Inside the city the master plan is implemented and protected by zoning laws.

Now let's go back to Mr. Gatter. He considers the Tahoe Basin an "urban" area. In the light of this definition, how much more are Carmel Point, the Mission, Walker, Mission Fields and Roway tracts "urban." They are, at present, under the control of a county, and Mr. Gatter has stated "counties are notoriously reticent and inadequately structured" to deal with urban planning problems.

But Carmel, itself, as Mr. Gatter points out, has managed to stave off "vulgarization" by maintaining rigid control over planning implemented with a zoning law.

Carmel has become an example for the state, witness Mr. Gatter. But there are still many persons in the areas which have asked to annex to the city who are bitterly opposed to the move.

Only because Carmel has been a planning leader in California do these people enjoy many privileges . . . the natural beach, the trees, the unique business district and, soon, a cultural center.

The Carmel Master Plan has designated the land behind Carmel Mission Basilica now occupied by the Mission Ranch as a natural recreation area. Another natural park in the plan is Flanders Canyon across Rio Road from the Mission. On Carmel Point, all ocean frontage west of Scenic Drive was designated in the plan to be conserved in its natural state. The Robinson Jeffers property is designated to be kept undeveloped as a memorial. Already some of these plans have become lost dreams.

But some areas are still left and part of the not insignificant income from Carmel's hospitality tax is earmarked for the acquisition of greenbelt.

There is no doubt in my mind but that Carmel Point, the Mission, Walker, Roway and Mission Fields tracts will get their best protection against any "vulgarization," improbable as such development may seem to them now, by joining the City of Carmel.

But they will pay higher taxes. This money factor seems to be what is causing the opposition. It's too bad many persons who can afford to pay for the best are fighting to keep others from realizing their desires to preserve this area for future generations by annexing to the city.

Annexation opponents seem to prefer "notoriously reticent and inadequately structured" planning to staving off "vulgarization" with rigid controls as a part of Carmel.

But they had better look well at what happened to Carmel Valley!

—M.L.

Contra Costa county.

Following their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gearhart will live in Oakland until Mrs. Gearhart completes her schooling.

STATE PLANNERS HERE TOMORROW

Members of the Carmel Planning Commission will be hosts tomorrow to the State Planning Advisory Committee which will meet in city hall. The commission will also entertain the state group at luncheon.

A Carmel planning commissioner, George Wilcox, is a member of the state committee which will begin its meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m.

PENINSULA TRIO TO SING AT SUNSET

Three young Peninsulans who recently banded together in a musical trio known as Noon, Noon & Snow, Ltd. will appear in their first concert at Sunset Auditorium early in October.

Familiar to Carmelites is one member of the group, Kit Snow, who has appeared in numerous local benefits as a solo performer. A guitarist, as well as singer and musical story teller, he has joined forces with Mike and Nancy Noon, a brother-sister duo originally from Seattle, Washington.

Backed by Mike's banjo and Kit's guitar, the three have worked out a unique repertoire of satire, much of which was written by Mike.

The trio made its first public appearance last month in a Sunday afternoon concert sponsored by Carmel Art Association at Forest Theater, performing a set of songs which received an ovation.

The Noon, Noon & Snow, Ltd. concert is set for October 3, 8:00 p.m. The public is invited.
